FLOOD WATERS SWEEP CENTRAL OKLAHOMA

REPORT DEATH STALKS TRAIL OF CLOUDBURST

Thousands Marooned By Raging Streams;
Relief Rushed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 3.—A thousand families were marooned in raging flood waters of the flatbed North Canadian River, officials estimated, after a terrific cloudburst struck central Oklahoma today.

The National Guard was mobilized to aid in rescuing the stricken families. All resources of the city were turned to caring for those stricken.

The body of an unidentified woman was found on a trestle at Rotary Park by Fireman Earl Lockett. Several other persons were reported drowned or missing. Lieut. H. D. Cooper reported to the fire department that "several were drowned in Melrose Park."

The storm struck here about 3 a. m. cloudbursting a week of heavy rains that have paralyzed railroad traffic, washed out highways and damaged crops.

Frantic calls to police from low-land areas gave first indication of the seriousness of the situation.

The calls reported people being forced from their homes by torrents flowing over the banks of swollen creeks and streams.

Emergency relief action was gotten underway after a call to police from a woman saying she was secretary to Lieut. Gov. Robert Burns.

"People are being drowned," she screamed over the telephone.

Adj. Gen. Charles Barrett was notified of the situation and immediately started to mobilize the National Guard to aid civil authorities.

Barrett set up emergency headquarters in his home. He later received official notification from Governor W. H. Murray to assist in removing distressed families from the flooded regions.

The storm apparently started in the Red River region about midnight moving north through Purcell and Ardmore.

General Barrett ordered mobilization of at least forty guardsmen. Lieut. Col. Roger Moss was ordered to get a fleet of army trucks in readiness.

At 6:30 a. m. the North Canadian river had spilled over its banks and was sweeping through part of the industrial section of the city. A concrete bridge was washed out and water was coursing across a railroad track.

Trustees were released from the county jail to help man lifeboats plying about in the "squatter sections."

Sheriff Stanley Rogers said a complete evacuation of low lying areas was necessary.

One frantic call said houses were floating down the river.

BONUS ARMY IS GAINING SIZE

Problem Of Caring For Men Increases

WASHINGTON, June 3.—With the "bonus army of occupation" swelled to 1,000 and thousands of reinforcements enroute, authorities face a crisis today in their efforts to care for the battalions of destitute World War veterans.

Striving to avert any possible disorders, Police Superintendent Pelham Glassford withheld his threatened forty-hour evacuation notice and sought desperately to provide for the ex-service men.

MOORE DAIRY HERE IS INCORPORATED

Capitalized at $2,500, the Moore and Son Dairy Co., Xenia, was granted articles of incorporation at Columbus Friday, with authority to issue 250 shares of no par value stock.

The incorporators are W. E. Molen, Virgil Schaeffer and J. Clarence Schaeffer, all of Dayton.

The firm incorporated is that of the dairy business operated by V. H. Moore and his son, Carl, on N. Detroit St. for the last seven years. Mr. Moore will still retain a financial interest in the business, but the dairy will be managed at its present location by Mr. Molen, who will move, with his family, to this city shortly.

Mr. Moore will devote his time principally to the production of milk for the dairy.

Races With Death Up Ladder In Tank Pursued By Deadly Fumes - But Wins

WILMINGTON Del., June 3.—Edward Newton, 38, was a step ahead of death during a nine hour 120-foot climb from the bottom of a tank filled with deadly fumes, he said today.

And all that time the body of his fellow worker, Ernest Howard, 36, lay where it had fallen when Howard fell victim to the fumes and death that Newton escaped.

Newton was overcome frequently during the nine hours, he said today, and he realized that during most of the time he was only partly conscious.

The men contracted to paint a 100,000 gallon water tank at Newport, near here. They decided to begin their task at an early hour yesterday because they knew the sun would release the asphalt fumes in the paint.

But before they had been working long the deadly fumes began to rise. Howard started for the ladder, but toppled over.

Newton, already partly overcome saw his comrade fall, started toward him, realized his mistake and rushed toward the ladder. He dashed up a few steps before the fumes began to choke him.

He clung to the ladder as to his life. Then in another moment he moved up a few more steps, racing with the rising sun. The heat released the fumes in constantly increasing volume.

Newton, weakened almost to unconsciousness by his struggle, rested on the level at the termination of the first ladder in the series and then began to crawl upward once more.

He moved little by little all morning, until he was at a point where the fumes could have but little effect on him.

It was 3 o'clock in the afternoon before Newton emerged from the tank and climbed down on the other side.

YOUTH QUESTIONED IN EXTORTION PLOT THAT AIMED AT MOVIE STAR

WIDOW IS MISSING

A nation-wide search was instituted for Mrs. I. M. Ramond Raymond, wealthy widow of Lincoln, Neb., following disappearance from her palatial home after brooding over the death of her husband, which occurred six months ago. Police reported her as being seen in Denver, Chicago, St. Louis and New York.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF CEDARVILLE HAS TWO NEW OFFICERS

Personnel Changed And Budget Slashed At Annual Meeting

Rev. J. Alvin Orr, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pa., who had served as president of the board of trustees of Cedarville College for the last eight years, telegraphed his resignation as a board member, and it was accepted by the trustees at their annual meeting Thursday.

Dr. Orr, a graduate of the college in its first class thirty-six years ago, had been a member of the trustee board fifteen years. Serving his thirteenth year as secretary of the board, Probate Judge S. C. Wright, Cedarville, resigned the post, though remaining a trustee.

The board elected Rev. William R. Graham, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, Lafayette, Ind., as president, and Rev. William H. Tilford, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Xenia, as secretary.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Orr was filled by election of Rev. James L. Chesnut, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, Fort Wayne, Ind. Nominated for the place by the college alumni association a year ago, J. Lloyd Confar, Cedarville, was also

SCHMIDT ELECTED

COLUMBUS, June 3.—Charles Schmidt, Springfield, today had been elected president of the Ohio State University Aeronautical Society. R. K. Cutler, Ashland, was chosen treasurer. The society was on record as favoring the candidacy of David S. Ingalls, Republican candidate for governor. Ingalls was made an honorary member of the society.

Threatened To Kidnap Marlene Dietrich's Daughter

HOLLYWOOD, June 3.—A youthful former motion picture worker faced questioning today in an extortion letter plot to kidnap the daughter of Marlene Dietrich, exotic film star, unless she paid the writers $28,000.

District Attorney Burton Pitts would not disclose the name of the youth, who was under observation.

He said the young man would be questioned regarding a possible connection with the attempted extortion from Miss Dietrich, Mrs. Egon Muller, wife of a wealthy German importer, and others prominent in the films.

Pitts characterized the threats as the work of "a bunch of cheap chiselers." They were disclosed when the extortionists accidentally switched letters sent to Miss Dietrich and Mrs. Muller.

Mrs. Muller received a letter intended for Miss Dietrich. It read: "You've lost the cops, so we've doubled the price—$28,000."

"You Marlene Dietrich, if you want to save Maria to be a screen star, your own girl, pay and if you don't she'll be but a loving memory to you. Don't dare to call the detective again. Keep this to yourself."

At the same time Miss Dietrich received a note intended for Mrs. Muller. It demanded $483 under threat her five-year-old son would be kidnapped.

The note intended for Mrs. Muller revealed she had paid $17 of a previous demand for $500 through failure of a police trap. Mrs. Muller had placed $17 under a garbage can, but the collector escaped with the money.

Beverly Hills police likewise had attempted to trap the extortionists through Miss Dietrich. A packet of money was placed on the running board of her automobile at a designated spot, but no one claimed it.

Miss Dietrich received the first note, demanding $10,000 eight weeks ago, it was disclosed. She turned the case over to Beverly Hills police and engaged guards for her daughter and herself.

District Attorney Pitts expressed belief that the threats were not of serious import, but the work of inexperienced criminals.

Extraordinary precautions to protect Miss Dietrich and her director and manager, Josef von Sternberg, were noticeable even at the Paramount studio while they were before the camera.

Other motion picture parents have engaged bodyguards for themselves or dependents. Ann Harding, Harold Lloyd and Mary Pickford were among them. The guards usually were disguised as chauffeurs, gardeners and butlers.

WILMINGTON HAS NEW PRESIDENT

WILMINGTON, O., June 3.—Dr. Walter L. Collins, for several years director of graduate study at the University of Cincinnati, was inaugurated the eleventh president of Wilmington College at ceremonies held in the college gymnasium today.

The inauguration was held in conjunction with the fifty-seventh commencement exercises of the Quaker institution. Francis H. Parquhar, president of the board of trustees, and Judge Frank M. Clevenger, member of the board, presided at the inaugural ceremonies. Representatives from twelve Ohio colleges and universities attended the rites.

BRIEFS TO SUPPORT EFFORT TO REMOVE WALKER PREPARED

Seabury, Acting As Citizen, May File; Will Be Soon

NEW YORK, June 3.—Briefs, forming the basis for removal or retention of Mayor James J. Walker, are rapidly taking form in the Hofstadter investigating committee and according to present plans will be filed with Gov. Roosevelt before the Democratic national convention meets June 27.

The exact time for filing a supporting demand for removal from office is unrevealed. Under current plans, the committee itself will not make the demand, but probably will leave this to a civic organization or citizen.

The committee and its counsel, Judge Samuel Seabury, manifested today no indications that they proposed to make a demand prior to the convention, but there was every indication that they would have their "ammunition" in Roosevelt's hands before June 27.

Action before that date would place Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York before the convention as a presidential candidate with a case pending which some political observers say would show his attitude once and for all toward Tammany Hall.

The Hofstadter investigating committee which investigated the mayor's administration is empowered only to investigate and report to the legislature in the fall. The governor, in event charges are filed, would sit as a judge, and therefore, his friends are quoted as saying, he could not place himself in the position of also acting as prosecuting attorney or detective.

Seabury has indicated by his actions that he does not plan to file charges at once. If he files, he must do so as a private citizen, not as counsel for the Hofstadter committee. And to file at once, it was said, might make him appear to be the political opportunist Tammany Hall claims him to be.

Roosevelt, political observers say, is "between the devil and the deep blue sea" as result of the Walker hearing. If he were to file charges at once and act at once, he would be accused of catering to Tammany if he dismissed the charges. He would be accused of catering to Tammany haters if he removed Walker, regardless of the evidence in the case.

Removal of Walker might cost Roosevelt Tammany Hall support, and therefore New York in the election should be nominated. Dismissal of charges might cost him doubtful delegations and the November votes of many anti-Tammany voters.

Honorary degrees of doctor of divinity were bestowed upon Rev. William H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Xenia, a member and secretary of the college trustee board, and Rev.

ANCIENT LOVE SACRIFICE CLAIMS TWO LIVES

HILO, T. H., June 3.—The body of his sweetheart in his arms, Sylvester Nunes, sturdy young Hawaiian, followed ancient tradition and leapt to death in the Kilauea Volcano, investigation reported today.

Nunes, before jumping to death on the rocks close to the fiery pit, shot and killed his 17 year old high school sweetheart, Margaret Enos. His automobile was found parked near the edge of the crater, an automatic pistol on the floor and bloodstains on its cushions. "Ten minutes to eight," a note left in the car read. "Margaret died instantly. She did not suffer. Now I must pay."

Police prepared today to lower a man 1,200 feet into the pit to recover the bodies. The task was a considerable one, since heat and smoke from molten lava, the height from which operations must be carried on, and the sharp rocks made the slightest mishap perilous.

EARL EAVEY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF XENIA NATIONAL BANK HERE

HANGED TO TREE

Here is Walter Merrick, white farmer, who was taken from his cell at Princeton, Ky., by a masked mob, dragged two miles from town and hanged to a tree. Merrick was awaiting trial on charges of dynamiting the general store of J. M. (Jack) P'Pool at Hopson, Ky., seriously injuring P'Pool and 13-year-old Harold Nabb, who was playing nearby. Authorities charged that P'Pool and Merrick had quarreled.

CEDARVILLE GIVES DEGREES TO TWENTY ON FRIDAY MORNING

Minister Speaks At Commencement When 17 Graduate

"The secret of success lies in specializing in one thing only," declared Rev. A. Gordon MacLennan, pastor of Shady Side United Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pa., at the thirty-sixth annual commencement of Cedarville College, Friday morning. Seventeen students were awarded degrees and three honorary degrees were conferred.

Using as his subject, "The Secret of Success," Rev. MacLennan said that to achieve success a person had to do three things. "You have to forget the past, be dissatisfied with the present and look into the future," he said. "Three maxims to use in striving for success are: know thyself, control thyself and deny thyself," he pointed out. "If you follow the first two of these maxims you will be successful but to be truly successful it is necessary to follow the third, which will keep you in touch with God," Rev. MacLennan said.

President W. R. McCaskey conferred the degrees upon the graduates and also awarded three honorary degrees.

Honorary degrees of doctor of divinity were bestowed upon Rev. William H. Tilford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Xenia, a member and secretary of the college trustee board, and Rev.

FAILS TO DEATH

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—Louis T. Jiles, 54, was killed in a fall from the third story of a building here Thursday. His skull was fractured and he received internal injuries. Jiles was working on the building and his foot apparently became entangled in something on the scaffold.

The youthful islander had taken the girl from her home this morning after shooting her sister, Mrs. Manuel Pardo, through the hand when the sister attempted to resist his commands to Margaret that she follow him.

Kilauea is famed in island history and legend as the home of Madam Pele, goddess of fire. Many stories are told of the custom of sacrifices being thrown into the smoking pit, known as Alamae. Natives formerly would hurl themselves into the smoking rocky crater as a gesture of defiance against a fate that condemned them to unrequited love.

Prominent Business Man To Succeed John A. Nisbet

H. Earl Eavey, president of The Eavey Co., wholesale grocery firm, has accepted the presidency of the Xenia National Bank, as successor to the late John A. Nisbet.

Mr. Eavey was elected a director of the institution, filling a vacancy created by the recent death of Mr. Nisbet, at the regular board meeting Thursday night, and was then named president.

He thus resumes an affiliation with the bank which he severed in 1929. In that year he resigned as a member of the directorate after serving almost continuously as a board member for ten or twelve years.

His resignation at that time was prompted by business duties which prevented his regular attendance at board meetings.

Mr. Eavey, head of the business established by his father in 1868, is also chairman of the national buying committee of the Independent Grocers' Alliance, with which more than 10,000 grocery stores in all parts of the United States are associated.

Election of Mr. Eavey as a director raises the personnel of the board to six members. The other directors are A. E. Beam, vice-president; R. O. Wead, cashier; W. D. Wright, Attorney J. A. Finney and Henry C. Flynn.

Mr. Eavey is the third president of the Xenia bank in the last six months. Following the death of George Little last November, John A. Nisbet was elected head of the bank, serving until his death recently.

The vacancy on the board of directors caused by Mr. Little's death was never filled. The directorate is expected to remain composed of six members instead of seven, at least for the present because stockholders of the bank, at a recent meeting, approved a proposed change in the articles of constitution, whereby the board may be constituted of not less than five nor more than seven members.

FINAL DRAFT OF TAX BILL IS PREPARED

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The complete and revised draft of the billion-dollar tax bill, meeting the treasury's budget-balancing requirements, was ready today to receive the final stamp of approval by house and senate.

It is expected the measure will be dispatched to the White House tomorrow for President Hoover's signature. This will make it law and will impose unprecedented peacetime taxes on the American people to assure beyond doubt the financial soundness of their government.

PICK CEDAR POINT

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—Cedar Point, O., has been chosen today for the mid-summer meeting of the Ohio Association of Personal Finance Companies, July 27-29.

SPITALE, WHO AIDED SEARCH FOR LINDBERGH BABY, ARRESTED

NEW YORK, June 3.—Salvatore Spitale, who told a Bronx County grand jury about negotiating for return of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, was arrested early today charged with carrying a pistol without a proper permit.

Spitale and Irving Bitz were two of the underworld characters enlisted by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his advisers in the hunt for the stolen baby. They told their story of negotiations yesterday.

Spitale had a permit when arrested in a speakeasy with two others, all of whom, police said, were carrying pistols under permits issued in Greene County.

Dr. John F. Condon (Jafie), who paid purported kidnapers $50,000 for the return of the baby was to view more rogue's gallery pictures today in an effort to identify the "John" to whom he paid the cash.

There was no other development in the hunt for the kidnapers and slayers of the baby.

SAVE CHILD'S LIFE

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—The life of Barbara Ann Straub, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Straub, was saved when a peanut was removed from her windpipe at a hospital here Thursday night. Dr. Hugh Beatty operated on the child.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO BLOCK PROGRESS OF GARNER PROGRAM

Measure Will Reach Floor; Hoover's Plan Offered

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Republican congressional leaders today began an intensive campaign to line up votes to block the swift progress of Democratic-sponsored unemployment relief legislation.

With Speaker Garner's $2,300,000,000 program expected to receive a favorable report from the house ways and means committee within the next two days, Republicans abandoned hope of preventing the bill from reaching the floor.

They will, however, make a last ditch effort to prevent their support from bolting to the Garner plan. The Republican house steering committee, headed by Minority Leader Snell, decided to undertake a real vote-getting campaign.

"We will fight the public works bond issue proposal (carried in the Garner bill in excess of $1,000,000,000)," Snell said, "and we are opposed to the $100,000,000 fund for federal relief of distress. After all this trouble in balancing the budget, we are not going to support legislation which will unbalance it."

Rep. Hawley, Rep. Orr, meantime introduced President Hoover's own program in the form of two bills.

They would provide that all federal efforts toward unemployment relief be carried out through the reconstruction finance corporation. The borrowing power of the corporation would be doubled to $3,000,000,000. This is in addition to the $600,000,000 capital stock subscribed by the government.

The corporation would be empowered to loan up to $100,000,000 for farm relief; $300,000,000 for states for direct relief of distress; and hundreds of millions to states, municipalities and corporations who would guarantee to undertake "self-liquidating" construction work that would provide added employment.

FLYER BEGINS NON-STOP HOP EARLY FRIDAY

Announces Warsaw As Destination; May Stop In London

FLOYD BENNETT AIRPORT, N. Y., June 3.—Stanley Hausner, Polish American aviator, started from Floyd Bennett airport today in an attempt to fly non-stop from New York to Warsaw, Poland.

Hausner's flame-colored Bellanca monoplane, the Rosa Maria, left the long concrete runway at 9:46 a. m.

The ship had been wheeled out at 9 a. m. and Hausner, usually closeclipped about his plans, announced he would try to reach the capital of his native Poland without a stop.

"When I get to London," he said, "I may land, but if the plane is in good shape I'll continue."

The Rosa Maria was fueled with 525 gallons of gasoline and twenty-five gallons of oil.

Hausner spent the night at the airport and was up and about at 6 a. m. His wife, Martha, was with him and at 7 o'clock Father Paul Knappek, pastor of a Polish Catholic church in Newark, arrived. Father Knappek taught Hausner in school and is one of the flier's closest friends.

The smiling flier had breakfast with his wife at a roadside stand and then they prepared some food to store in the plane. He took a quart of black coffee, a quart of ice water, four chicken sandwiches and some fruit.

As the Rosa Maria was wheeled out to the field, Hausner, wearing a business suit, turned to his wife and remarked: "Well, it's time to go." He kissed her and walked jauntily down the field to the plane.

Hausner said he would fly the great circle route, following the ship lanes. He was told by weather bureau officials that conditions along that route are favorable.

The takeoff was perfect. The plane left the 4,200 foot runway after a run of about 3500 feet.

Hausner took off last Saturday afternoon in his first attempt to fly the Atlantic but turned back after reaching Nantucket because of dense fog and a broken "artificial horizon."

He was extremely nonchalant about his start today. One airport official described him as a "trans-Atlantic commuter" and remarked that he seemed no more concerned about his venture than if he were catching the 9:45 train for work.

Mrs. Hausner wept as the plane shot down the runway. Then she got into a plane piloted by John Coyne, to fly with the Bellanca a short distance.

Hausner has no radio. He is carrying parachute flares.

Hausner, who is 32, makes his home in Newark, N. J., and is a motion picture operator.

It is 4,350 miles on an airline from New York to Warsaw.

A navy plane which accompanied Hausner to Fire Island—seventy-five miles out—reported he was flying steadily at good altitude and waived them farewell as they turned to port.

GROVER FLEMING IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 3.—Grover Fleming, editor of the Ohio Examiner, weekly journal published at Columbus, waived preliminary hearing when arraigned here today on a charge of circulating alleged false reports about a national bank, and was bound over to the Clark County Grand Jury by Municipal Judge Fred A. Wagner.

Fleming's bond was reduced from $5,000 to $3,000 and he was released pending grand jury action.

Orville Wear, Clark County prosecutor, announced that the grand jury will consider the case when it convenes within the next three weeks.

J. Edward Grant, a Presbyterian Church pastor at Churchville, Md. The honorary degree of doctor of music was given Edward Elgen-schen, organist of the Second Presbyterian Church in Chicago, Ill., and teacher in the American Conservatory of Music there. Recipients of honorary degrees received them in person at the commencement exercises. Dr. Elgen-schen, regarded as one of the finest organists in this country, appeared on the program in several pipe organ numbers. The graduation exercises were preceded by the customary academic procession, which formed at Carnegie Library, two blocks from the church. It was composed of college officers, trustees, recipients of degrees, faculty members and ministers.

At the commencement, the invocation was delivered by Rev. Carl White, Yellow Springs, whose son was a member of the graduating class. Rev. J. E. Grant, who received one of the honorary degrees pronounced the benediction. After conferring degrees, President McChesney gave his farewell address to the graduating class.

An alumni business meeting was held early Friday afternoon as the concluding commencement week activity.

The following student degrees were conferred: bachelor of science in education—Daniel Aultman, Xenia; bachelor of arts—Wilda Auld, Cedarville; Mrs. Alice M. Borst, Cedarville; Sarah M. Chance, Salem, Ill.; Rachel Douthett, Xenia; Bernese Elias, Cedarville; Roscoe Fudge, Xenia; Marion Hostetter, Cedarville; Edward Irons, Steubenville; Eloise McLaughlin, Salem, Ill.; Gertrude Martin, Xenia; Leo Reed, Clifton; Lenora Skinnell, Frankfort, O.; Martha Waddie, Cedarville; Robert White, Yellow Springs; Rodney Thaine Taylor, Yellow Springs; James O. A. R. Garner may be truly said to carry his responsibilities lightly as he observes an old English custom and carries his bride, the former Miss Marjorie Pretwell, through the door of St. Cuthbert's Church, Yorkshire, after the ceremony. Three youths, suspected of being the perpetrators of two robberies at Cedarville Wednesday night, are under arrest at Columbus, according to information received by Sheriff Baughn Friday morning.

The sheriff dispatched his chief deputy, Walton Spahr, and Forest Shoup, another deputy to Columbus to return the suspects to this city for further questioning and possible prosecution.

The suspects in custody gave their names as George McCoy, John Dawson and Robert Allimang, the sheriff said.

When apprehended by police in Columbus, the trio was said to have been in possession of nine automobile tires tentatively identified, from description furnished by Sheriff Baughn as comprising the major part of the loot in the two robberies under investigation.

Thieves who committed the burglaries, stole a dozen tires and two inner tubes from a Standard Oil Co. filling station, after supposedly breaking into the adjoining Wolford garage on Xenia Ave. and stealing five tire tubes, a pry bar and wrench and seventy-five cents from the cash register.

Following the robberies, Sheriff Baughn mailed out letters Thursday to authorities in various Ohio cities, describing the stolen tires, and also made numerous telephone calls to police departments.

At 9:30 o'clock Friday morning the sheriff of Madison County heard a police radio broadcast from Columbus, announcing the arrest of three suspects in connection with the Cedarville robberies. He immediately phoned Sheriff Baughn, who shortly afterward received a long-distance phone call from the Columbus police chief.

Barrymores to Appear in Film

Though they have appeared together on the stage the "Royal Family of Broadway," Ethel, John and Lionel Barrymore, will soon make their first joint appearance in the films. John and Lionel have co-starred in several pictures and Ethel once appeared in a silent film. This will be the first time all three will act in the same picture. Here is Ethel Barrymore being greeted by brother John on her arrival in Hollywood. They will start work on their picture for M. G. M. in July.

MORE THAN HALF STOCKHOLDERS IN CLOSED BANK FOR REOPENING

Moderate progress is reported in attempts being made to finance the contemplated reopening of the closed Commercial and Savings Bank Co. under a reorganization plan formulated by the directors.

Reorganization hinges upon the ability of stockholders to finance the project by paying 100 per cent liability on their shares of stock, a method whereby it is hoped to create a fund of $50,000 equivalent to the bank's capitalization.

A sub-committee working on the plan reported Friday that about 310 of the 500 shares of capital stock are represented in signed acceptances of the reorganization proposal so far obtained from stockholders.

Signed pledges to pay the 100 per cent assessment on their stock shares are required of stockholders who consent to the plan.

While all the stockholders are reported to look with favor on a reorganization of the bank, and reopening it upon a sound financial basis, not all have declared themselves in a position to pay the individual assessment that would be required.

The committee still engaged in interviewing stockholders is headed by Dr. F. M. Chambliss, as chairman, and is also composed of Frederick Anderson, Adolph Moser and Dillver Belden.

Denying reports that the cost of operating the bank under the present liquidation proceedings is excessive bank officials issued a statement in which it was asserted the monthly expense amounts to only $900, as compared to an outlay of about $1,700 when the institution was a going concern.

While the reorganization movement is still in progress, the state banking department is continuing the liquidation procedure. Agents of the department are unable to hazard a guess, however, relative to when the payment of a first dividend to depositors may be expected.

Virtually all claims of depositors and other creditors of the bank have been filed, through a few accounts are still unclaimed, despite repeated notifications. It has been difficult in some instances to locate depositors who have moved away, and who had small bank balances at the time the institution closed its doors.

Collections of interest and principal on notes are said to have amounted to nearly $40,000 since the bank closed, although much of the money collected has been used to pay preferred claims, principally public funds on deposit, secured claims that have preference.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life.—James 1, 12.

DUPLICATION WASTE

The waste through duplication of American departmental services in foreign countries is graphically indicated by figures that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg has compiled for the Congressional Record. The four capitals, which were selected at random, with which these figures have to do, are Vienna, Copenhagen, Mexico City and Buenos Aires. What applies to them applies to many other foreign capitals where the United States is represented.

At Vienna five departments of our Government have agents. The State Department staffs a legation and a consulate-general. The War Department has a military attaché. The Commerce Department has two officers, six clerks and a messenger. The Labor Department has a technical adviser. The Treasury Department has a surgeon, a passed assistant surgeon and an inspector. A total of 60 persons in Vienna are costing the Government $149,022 a year. Our trade with Austria in 1930 amounted to $12,500,000.

At Copenhagen four departments have a total staff of 34 persons costing the Country $112,730 a year. Our trade with Denmark two years ago amounted to $43,424,000. The State, War and Commerce Departments maintain 70 representatives in Mexico City at an annual cost of $235,851. Our trade with Mexico in 1930 was valued at $196,507,300. The State, War, Navy, Commerce and Agriculture Departments spend $269,173 on 69 persons in Buenos Aires, capital of a country that did a $201,718,000 business with the United States in 1930.

Originally the State Department was the only department in Washington with representatives abroad. The members of the diplomatic and consular services did everything that had to be done. Then the Treasury Department sent its own men to other countries to protect the revenues. The Labor Department had to have agents abroad to look after immigration matters. The War Department and the Navy Department each wanted to keep an eye on foreign developments in its particular line. A demand for more efficient commercial reporting than the consular service could provide resulted in the Commerce Department sending abroad a swarm of agents.

The result is that specialization has loaded down the Government's payroll abroad out of all reasonable proportion to the needs of the case or to the value of the services rendered the Country. While it is not expected that any one department can be equipped to carry the whole load of these various services, Senator Vandenberg's figures do suggest that a good deal of money could be saved annually by the intelligent revision and co-ordination of departmental staffs, duties and expense accounts in the foreign field.

REAL PATIENCE

The Dutch have spent 12 years turning the Zuyder Zee back into a lake. They are planning to spend 20 more years in draining this lake and thereby adding another 500,000 acres to the 8,000,000 or so acres that now comprise the land area of The Netherlands. This vast reclamation project was first studied back in 1894. At that time the estimated cost of it was $36,000,000, which the Government expected to recover through the sale of reclaimed land.

The engineering features of the undertaking, while imposing, are not the most impressive aspect of it. The Zuyder Zee was a lake until the Thirteenth Century, when a series of severe storms wore away the sand dunes that separated it from the North Sea and turned it into an arm of the ocean. The ocean has now been re-excluded from it by the construction of an eighteen-mile dyke across the strait connecting it with the North Sea, where the water is only from 30 to 40 feet deep. The Zuyder Zee itself is for the most part very shallow, which will facilitate its drainage. Constructing dykes to reclaim land or protect what they already had is nothing new to the Dutch. A large portion of their sea frontage is below sea level. They have gained and held much of their Country for centuries by just such arduous means.

What compels the greatest admiration for this achievement is the fact that the Dutch are spending more than thirty years, a full human generation, accomplishing something that will benefit posterity rather than those who planned and carried it through. Only a people of infinite patience and prevision would go to that trouble. The generality of Americans may find it a little hard to understand why Old World peoples are willing to terrace a living out of their mountainsides or push back the ocean to add to their fields and pastures. They have to. We are coming to irrigation and reclamation in parts of the West; but for generations, all that our ancestors had to do to escape from the diminishing returns on worked out soil, was to go West and take up new land. The effect is still apparent in our National impatience, wastefulness of natural resources and lessening disposition to hard work. We have yet to be tempered by a real struggle with nature.

TAMMANY ATTACKED

As a result of disclosures in the Seabury investigation of the Tammany Administration in New York, a large number of clergymen in that city joined Sunday in a concentrated pulp attack on Tammany Hall and Mayor Walker. They denounced the tactics of the minority members of the Hofstadter Committee, while His Honor was being examined, as "a spectacle to make good men blush." They demanded the after removal from office. One declared:

"One is simply amazed that in a representative government of supposedly intelligent people there could be assembled enough hoodlum voters to elect such men to office. Their appeal on every occasion was to the cheers of the rabble. Tammany Hall is the same old bloodsucker that she has always been."

About 40 years ago, when Tammany was under one of its periodical investigations, another clergyman stood in the pulpit of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church and thundered:

"There is not a form under which the devil disguises himself that so perplexes us in our efforts, or so bewilders us in the devising of our schemes, as the polluted harpies that, under the pretense of governing this city, are feeding night and day on its quivering vitals. They are a lying, perjured, rum-soaked and libidinous lot."

Are we asked to believe that the Tiger changes its stripes no more easily than the leopard its spots?

MY NEW YORK

By JAMES ASWELL

NEW YORK.—Hop, Skip and Jump: That suddenly hilarious cuckoo clock in the office of Variety, the impudently colloquial sheet which is the Talmud of theatrical folk. . . . And Abel Green, the paper's theater critic, kindly writing me a letter to the Paris office, to clear my track to the inside of Continental show-shops. . . . I wondered whether he'd use the pub's standard "very, slangy style" in the note, which grows now.

James Aswell I'll be tendering across the briny before very long now. . . . He did. The introduction was succinct, cocky and crammed with Broadwayisms.

Not all of Hollywood has to worry about sliced pay checks and the bugaboo of next year. . . . There are a few blue-bloods with bank accounts in the black who act just for the fun of it. . . . I'm thinking of Adrian Ames, for example, Paramount's rising star. . . . Her penthouse chalet in the East Eighties is a showplace and a rendezvous for the socially elite.

And there's Dorothy Layton, the heiress, who signed up with Hal Roach not so long ago at $15 a week. . . . She could have had a larger salary but insisted that she didn't need the money and was willing to do leads for that amount. What do the lads and lassies who view with horror possible reductions from $4,000 to $3,000 a week think of that? . . . Most likely, they don't like to think about it at all.

PUN UNINTENDED

Overheard in the corner delicatessen: "Haff you some allegory pears, meester?" . . . Selected as the most side-splitting tableau of the season—that Rolls Royce which slowly piles Park avenue in the afternoon, a sign hung on its sleek tonneau, reading: "Bring Back Prosperity!" . . . Well maybe in the old days two Rolls grew where one grows now.

Doug Ripley, brother of the famous Bob of "Believe It or Not" renown, is a dead ringer for his relative. . . . Lillian Harvey, the German blonde star of "Congress Dances," reminds me of Mary Pickford trying to imitate Marlene Dietrich. . . . Richard Bennett, in this opinion, remains the most versatile character actor of the screen.

FACES IN THE CROWD

Harry Langdon, in an almost white suit with black lapels, parading up Fifth avenue at noon. . . . He doesn't possess any of the pallor which his screen appearances suggest. . . . Harry, no doubt taking an afternoon off from the Fort Lee studio, where he's making a new comedy. . . . I must get out to Port Lee soon and see the renaissance of that famous lot of the grand old silent days.

Katharine Brush seldom sees her name spelled with that second "a"; newspaper articles spell it Katherine six times out of seven. . . . Ed Anthony, collaborator with Frank Buck on the new thriller, "Wild Card," knows every literary person of the slightest importance in town. . . . He may do a book about the peculiarities of scribblers.

FACING THE BREAKERS

Senator Morrow's Successor Sides With Administration Except On Dry Law Problem

WASHINGTON.—Senator W. Warren Barbour of New Jersey, who occupies the late Senator Dwight W. Morrow's former seat in the upper house of congress, links America's economic and wet-and-dry problems more intimately than perhaps any other lawmaker in Capitol Hill.

Senator Barbour is the son who recently introduced a bill to increase the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's resources by $1,500,000,000, to enable it to finance or underwrite states, counties and cities, and private individuals, firms and companies also.

In carrying out construction projects of a self-liquidating character—that is, of a sort to yield returns and pay for themselves, when completed.

This, of course, will be recognized as the plan suggested by President Hoover, who is on record as objecting to a bond issue to meet the expenses of a public improvement program for the relief of unemployment.

The New Jersey senator agrees with Mr. Hoover, arguing that a bond issue will have to be met sooner or later, which, he says, "will only postpone the evil day of reckoning."

The Jersey legislator, indeed, concurs with the White House in virtually all of its economic ideas. He is for the immediate balancing of the budget, in part by rigorous retrenchment, and by increased taxation to cancel whatever remains of the deficit after the utmost possible economy has been effected.

He is for the manufacturers' sales tax, on the ground that it will bring in much more, is fairer and does not differ in principle from a comparatively small number of special excise levies, "which probably," he reasons, "will have to be so heavy as to cripple the industries they are applied to, and may, besides, prove inadequate."

Likewise, though a protectionist, the senator deprecates the imposition of tariffs under the guise of revenue-raising, and voted against the copper, coal, oil and lumber impost tacked onto the tax measure by sectional interests.

Thus far Senator Barbour is in hearty accord with the Hoover administration. But, unless the White House tenant is far wetter than he generally is credited with being, there is conflict between them on the subject of prohibition. "I believe," says the senator, "that prohibition is definitely involved in the present economic situation."

"What a totally different financial condition the treasury would be in today had the nation not been deprived of the $12,000,000,000 of revenue lost since the eighteenth amendment's adoption!"

"In 1917 the tax on alcoholic beverages paid nearly one-third of the cost of operating the federal government. "Think what this would mean to American taxpayers now."

"It is not," continued the New Jersey senator, "as if the liquor traffic had been extinguished. Were that the case, it might be contended that intangible advantages have been gained, counterbalancing the loss in treasury returns."

"Instead, it continues—untaxed. "The proof that it still exists is "According to the government's Statistical Abstract for 1931, between 1910 and 1928 the convicts received in federal and state prisons increased from 32 to 48 per 100,000 of population."

"The census bureau reports that divorces, in which intemperance was given as the sole cause, increased 133 per cent between 1922 and 1929, as against an 11 per cent population increase."

"A large life insurance company reports that deaths from alcoholism among its policy holders increased from 1.4 to 3.4 per cent per 100,000 between 1919 and 1929."

Senator Barbour does not particularly like being advertised as a wet.

Indeed, it is true that several members of both houses of congress have been so strongly emphasized as foes of the dry regime that they have come to be known as such to the exclusion of almost everything else.

The New Jersey senator desires it understood that he recognizes economics as the most important public issue of the day.

"Nevertheless," he adds, "it cannot be fully considered without due allowance for the part prohibition unquestionably has played in the creation—or, at least, the aggravation—of our existing difficulties."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By Mrs. Mary Morton

Swiss Steak Boiled Potatoes
Raw Vegetable Salad
Rice Pudding With Raisins
Tea or Coffee
Milk
As this menu calls for carrots and lima beans cooked with meat, we omit any other cooked vegetable.

Today's Recipes

Swiss Steak.—One and one-half pounds round steak, one inch thick; one onion, six diced carrots, one-half cup lima beans, two or three slices green pepper. Brown steak on both sides. After a few minutes, pour a little water over meat and cook about an hour and a half. Half an hour before serving add vegetables with salt and pepper to taste, cover, cook half an hour, adding a little water if needed. Serves four.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Blanket Protectors
For comfort or blanket protectors use an old sheet or old cotton blanket ends, as they are just as wide as the comforters or blankets in use. These can be tinted to match color scheme of room. Instead of sewing to the comforter or blanket, pin them with seven or eight small safety pins, and in this way they can readily be changed when soiled.

Use 'Em Up
Use up old paint, varnishes, etc., in your basement before hot blasts from outside dry them out. One person varnished porch swing and fernery, painted trellis, porch floors, basement locker doors and furnace front this way.

Strawberry Fluff

One quart fresh strawberries, one cup sugar, one teaspoon lemon juice, three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, one egg white, dash salt. Hull the strawberries. To one-half of them add three-fourths cup sugar. Crush. Measure juice and pulp and add enough water to make two and one-half cups liquid. Stir in tapioca and cook over hot water until the tapioca is clear, about 15 minutes. Cut remainder of berries in half, saving the largest ones for garnish. Sprinkle halved berries with remaining sugar. Cool tapioca mixture. Stir in halved berries and fold into egg white beaten with salt. Pile into sherbet glasses and serve very cold with soft custard sauce garnished with the whole berries.

Poison Ivy Worst Pest

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

Captain John Smith probably was walking through the woods with the Pocahontas, favoring her with those charms of manner, of conversation and personality which later saved his life, when he said, "Oh! look at the pretty ivy." And before she could stop him he reached down and picked a leaf. He probably wondered at the silvery laughter of the simple Indian girl, but he soon found out the reason because he wrote about it.

Dr. Clendening thus:

"The poisonous weed being in shape but little different from our English ivy; but being touched caustic redness, itching, and lastly blisters, the which however after a while they pass away of themselves without further harm; yet because for the time they are somewhat painful and in aspect dangerous it hath gotten itself an ill name, although questionless of no very ill nature."

Such is the first account we have of that pest of the American summer woods.

There are several plants of the rhus family which cause poisoning. Poison ivy can be readily distinguished by the characteristic three-leaved branch. The leaves are dark green on the upper surface and velvety underneath. It may grow in the form of a vine or in that of a sort of bush.

Poison sumac always is in the form of a bush. Its habitat is in moist or swampy ground. The branches have from seven to thirteen leaflets on them, with a single one on the end. The berries, like the berries of the poison ivy, are cream colored.

The active principle of all rhus poisoning is virtually the same. In physical appearance it resembles linseed oil, and it has a resinous quality. It is very adhesive, almost impossible to remove from the skin or clothing with soap and water. On account of its adhesive qualities it is easily conveyed from one part of the body to another.

A scientist who always has been sensitive to the poison says that if the surface which has come into contact with the plant is thoroughly washed with alcohol, kerosene, ether or gasoline, the effect of the poison will be confined to its original location. If the surface is thus washed within 10 or 15 minutes the effect of the poison will be confined to its original location.

In treatment after the eruption has actually appeared there are many remedies. Most of them of little value. The disease as Captain John Smith noted, lasts only a few days and the last remedy applied just before healing takes place gets the credit for cure. The most recent remedy to be recommended is benzoyl peroxide.

Marriage Is A Problem

By Mrs. Virginia Lee

I wonder how many gallant men and women are fighting the good fight, trying to keep their homes together and make a success of their marriage when their hearts are heavy with disappointment and disillusionment.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: My marriage has certainly been one great problem. I wonder whether you could help me solve it."

"We have been married almost five years and the greater part of the five I have been alone, except for my little child who is now three."

"My husband has a good job, we have a lovely home and nice car. I keep the house as nice and pleasant as possible, never spending any money foolishly and very little on clothes. And still my husband is not satisfied. He has always been of a wild nature, but now he is even worse. He goes out most every night. I don't know where. And is always heavily laden with liquor, which is one thing I can never get used to."

"He has never offered to leave, but says quite often he wishes he was single again. He never goes anywhere with me. When I ask him to go he never wants to. "I am trying to live a Christian life. I don't dance, smoke, drink or belong to any clubs. I am always home and try to have his meals on time."

"If you feel like saying, 'surely he doesn't love you,' say it, because I want the truth of this thing if I can get to the bottom of it. Of course he has some good qualities, but so few. Please help me."

MARY E.
I wonder whether you are not just too good, Mary E. For instance, why should you not have nice clothes if your husband has a good salary and you have a lovely home and car? You always looked nice before you were married, I presume. That is one way you attracted him. Why try so hard to save his money when he wastes out every night and spends it on drink?

I imagine that your husband does care for you, but that he thinks you are a goody goody which makes him feel he's in the wrong and to show you that he doesn't care he goes right on amusing himself in this way. This is my guess.

I don't believe you will gain anything by being too saving and particular about your house with such a man. I don't mean that you should neglect your duties, but if you get out more and have more outside interests, you will not only make life more worthwhile for yourself and have less time to worry about your husband's actions, but will be a more interesting companion. Try it.

You say he always was wild, but has grown more so since your marriage. That is a usual thing. Marriage seldom "reforms" a man. My advice is to keep on making your home pleasant, make yourself attractive, both mentally and physically, and appreciate the few good traits your husband possesses, hoping that a change will take place in him after awhile.

Recommends Sunshine

By Gladys Glad

The tiny African jungle babies who toddle about naked in the fields and woods certainly are sturdy youngsters.

They are gloriously healthy and never have rickets, as babies in civilized countries often do. And a doctor's claim that it's all because the naked little jungle tots simply live and bathe in sunshine.

It's only been in recent years that we of the sun during the nearing summer. I hope that we shall take a sun bath every day during the entire season. If we can. And if we can't, I hope we shall absorb as much sunshine as our time and occupations permit.

Now's the time to begin accustoming yourself to sun baths. If you intend indulging in them during the summer, for you can't take a lengthy sun bath right off the bat, you know. Your tender skin is not used to exposure. You've got to begin circumspectly. Expose yourself to the sun for only 15 minutes the first day or two. Then gradually increase the time of your exposure day by day until you are finally spending as much as an hour or two under the sun each day.

In this zone, the best time to take a sun bath is between the hours of 11 and 3 o'clock for the sun's powers are then at their fullest. As few clothes as possible should be worn, for ultra-violet sun rays do not easily penetrate clothing. And if you lie in the sun as much as you can from early spring to late fall, you'll find that this mysterious source of life will bring about an amazing increase in your strength and loveliness.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

In order to promote uniformity in scoring at local softball games, as the basis for legitimate batting averages if nothing more, the following suggestions and definitions are presented for the benefit of scorekeepers:

No time at bat shall be scored in the tabulated summary if the batsman be given a legal base on called balls.

A hit should be scored in the following cases: When the ball from the bat hits the ground within the foul lines and out of the reach of fielders. When a hit ball is partially or wholly stopped by a fielder in motion, but such player cannot recover himself in time to handle the ball before the batter reaches first base. When a ball is hit with such force or so slowly to a fielder that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman. When a base-runner is retired by being hit by a batted ball, the batsman shall be credited with a hit.

A fielder's choice is scored when a fielder has two plays before him and elects to make one of them, retiring a man or even failing to retire one. This is shown in the score by FC.

Credit hits when the balls are hit terrifically hard and it is impossible for fielder to get both hands on the ball. When it appears that a reasonable amount of effort has been made to handle a ball, and it has been impossible to make a play on it, give batter a hit. Always give batter the benefit of the doubt.

When a batsman is called out for a foul strike, or when he fails to bat in proper order, the put-out shall be scored to the catcher. In all cases of out for interference or for running out of line, the put-out shall be credited to the player who would have made the play but for the action of the base-runner or batsman.

In the fielding department, an assist shall be given to each player who handles the ball in assisting the putout or other play of the kind. An assist shall be given to the proper player who makes a play in time to put a runner out, even if the player who would complete the play, falls through no fault of the player assisting.

In other words, whenever a ball is handled properly by assisting fielder, and the man to whom ball is thrown drops it, when ball should have been held, give assist to player making the throw, and charge an error to man who dropped ball.

An error shall be credited for each fielding misplay, which allows the batter or base-runner to make one or more bases, when a perfect play would have insured his being put out, except that "wild pitches" by the pitcher, and "passed balls" by the catcher, all of which comprise battery errors, shall not be included in this category.

An error shall not be scored against the catcher for a wild throw to prevent a stolen base, unless the base-runner advances an extra base because of the error.

In event of a fielder dropping a fly ball but recovering in time to force a runner at another base, he shall be exempted from an error, the play being scored as a "force-out."

An error shall be charged to any fielder covering any base on a force play if, on receiving a throw in ample time to retire the batter or base-runner, he does not touch the base as required by the rules.

A double play means any two consecutive putouts that take place between the time the ball leaves the pitcher's hands until it is returned to him again standing in the box and should be designated by the scorekeeper.

This list of scoring rules and definitions does not cover all questions that may arise from time to time, but should serve the purpose for a majority of situations.

Afterthought: Credit batter with a single if he is thrown out trying to stretch it into a double. He is credited with a safe hit for the number of bases he touches before being retired.

BUCCANEERS AGAIN SMACKED BY LEAGUE LEADERS THURSDAY

Errors Contribute To Victory But Jones Pitches Well

Central High School softballers may be able to beat or at least tie the other two teams in the American League, but they are still "cousins" to the O. S. and S. O. Home cadets.

The Buccaneers encountered their second defeat of the season at Cox Field Thursday night, and for the second time the setback was administered by the cadets, who thus took a firmer grip upon the league leadership.

Central dropped into a second place tie with Company L, while the cadets now own an advantage of a game and a half by virtue of four victories against only one defeat.

The score of the latest cadet victory over Central was 11 to 5, but the contest was anybody's ball game until the first half of the ninth when five errors, coupled with two singles, one of the scratch variety, gave the Home five more runs and eliminated any lingering doubt as to the winner.

During the early stages of the game the cadets looked like easy winners. While Robert Jones, cadet fastball pitcher, was blanking Central, allowing only one hit and fanning five batters in the first five rounds, his teammates had built up a six-run lead for him.

A walk, singles by Shriner and Wolfe and a fly to the outfield, gave the cadets a pair of runs in the initial inning. They added another in the fourth on Trumphour's single and a double by Rhoades, and three more runs trickled over the plate in the fifth on a double by R. Jones, an error and consecutive two-baggers by Rowe and Trumphour.

Jones, who had permitted only a futile single by Tommy Huston in the first five innings, experienced his one bad round in the sixth. After Huston had opened with his second single, Jones lost control and walked Thompson. Luttrell popped out, but Jones again could not locate the plate and passed Creamer, filling the bases. There followed singles by Latimer and Dalton, an outfield fly and an error and when the smoke had cleared away Central was in possession of five runs and only one tally in arrears.

Central got two runners on base in the seventh by virtue of errors, and LaMar tripled in the eighth with two out, but Jones bore down on each occasion and held the Bucs firmly in check.

Came the ninth inning and the collapse of Central's defense, and the cadets clinched the verdict then and there with five runs.

The cadets obtained twelve hits off Eddie Luttrell, Central hurler, and five of the blows were doubles. Jones allowed only five hits and struck out eight batters. Central's fielding was nothing to brag about, the Bucs making nine errors. Only three defensive slips were charged to the Home.

Victor over Coate's Barbers by a score of 8 to 6 on the first round of play. Anderson's Abat-tors will meet the Barbers in a National League game Friday night.

An error shall be charged to any fielder covering any base on a force play if, on receiving a throw in ample time to retire the batter or base-runner, he does not touch the base as required by the rules.

Central dropped into a second place tie with Company L, while the cadets now own an advantage of a game and a half by virtue of four victories against only one defeat.

The score of the latest cadet victory over Central was 11 to 5, but the contest was anybody's ball game until the first half of the ninth when five errors, coupled with two singles, one of the scratch variety, gave the Home five more runs and eliminated any lingering doubt as to the winner.

During the early stages of the game the cadets looked like easy winners. While Robert Jones, cadet fastball pitcher, was blanking Central, allowing only one hit and fanning five batters in the first five rounds, his teammates had built up a six-run lead for him.

HOUSE BUILT IN THE OLD CALIFORNIA TRADITION

The adobe house of the southwest has a romantic appeal partly due to its long association with glamorous adventure when the Spanish Dons rode up from Mexico to build on the land awarded them by royal grant from Madrid. The house pictured has a friendly atmosphere. The warm, dry climate explains why these houses are built around a patio or a courtyard. Walls of brush-coated stone tile, with a run plaster coping, surround it on two sides, while the other two sides are formed by the house. The floor plan insures good cross ventilation. The large living room opens on the patio to the north and the terrace to the south. The dining room is two steps up from the hall, the breakfast room adjoins it and leads into the kitchen. On the second floor are three bedrooms, two baths and ample closets. Gordon B. Kaufman is the architect. This plan is certified by the Good Housekeeping Studio of Architecture and Furnishings, Helen Koues, director, and its staff of architects, Dwight James Baum, A. I. A., consultant architect; Associate Architects Henry Ives Cobb, Jr., I. A. A., New York; Myron Hunt, F. A. I. A., Los Angeles; C. Herrick Hammond, F. A. I. A., Chicago. Plans for this house are not for sale. All inquiries concerning it should be addressed to the architect in care of this newspaper. The house would cost approximately $14,450.

STUDENT AWARDED ART SCHOOL COURSE

Jack Whitney, son of Mrs. Herman E. Sellers, 725 S. Detroit St., and a member of this year's graduating class at Central High School, has been awarded a year's course in commercial art by the International Correspondence School, Scranton, Pa., by the school it was announced Thursday. An official of the school conferred with Principal F. R. Woodruff Thursday and selected Whitney from a list of four boys recommended by Mr. Woodruff.

Whitney was elected to the "Premier Roll" this year, partly due to his artistic talents and he also was winner of the grand prize in the Boys' Hobby Fair here in May after his exhibit of freehand drawing had been judged the outstanding exhibit of the fair.

RECEIVE ESSAYS

More than 700 high school students have submitted essays on "What Is College For?" in a competition for a $500 scholarship in any accredited college or university, offered by Antioch College. The award will be announced in July.

To Rejoin Wife

Off to England to bring back his famous wife, George Palmer Putnam, publisher and husband of Amelia Earhart, is shown as he sailed from New York on the S. S. Olympic. Mrs. Putnam, now being feted in London, is due back in New York on June 16. She has requested that the usual elaborate welcoming ceremonies for returning heroes and heroines be eliminated in her case.

OHIO FORTY AND EIGHT SOCIETY PLANS ANNUAL PROGRAM AT HOME

Attractive prizes valued at $200 are to be awarded in connection with the fifth annual "Prize and Field Day" exercises sponsored by the Grand Vulture of Ohio, Forty and Eight Society, fun organization of the American Legion, Saturday at the O. S. and S. O. Home here.

A track and field meet, with a list of athletic events for both boys and girls, will be held at 1 p. m., followed by swimming events at 4 o'clock.

The morning program, commencing at 8 o'clock, will determine various other prize winners, including the best rifle shot and also the model cadet, who will receive a handsome wrist watch as the grand prize.

Inspection of cottages will take place at 9 a. m., and a rotating plaque will be awarded the best boys' and the best girls' cottage. Children in the winning cottages will receive a trip to Xenia to witness a movie.

The prize drill to determine the best drilled company of cadets will take place at 10:30 a. m. The cadet captain of the winning company will receive a sabre, and the other members will have the privilege of wearing a gold star on the sleeve of their uniform. They will also get to attend a movie. A prize will be given the best bugler in a contest open to all members of the band.

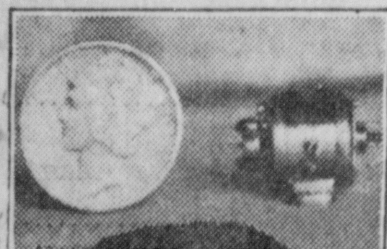

Following the athletic contests in the afternoon, a buffet supper will be served the visiting Legionnaires at 6 o'clock, presentation of prizes will take place at 7 o'clock in the high school auditorium, and a motion picture will be shown at 8 o'clock.

Many of the Grand Vulture officers from all parts of Ohio are expected to be present for the yearly field day exercises, and a Grand Vulture meeting will be held the following Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the Foody Post, American Legion headquarters, basement of the Court House.

Among Grand Vulture officers who have indicated they will attend are: Robert C. Weber, Dayton, grand chef de gare; Robert R. Roberts, Youngstown, grand chef de train; Robert B. Tharp, Washington C. H., grand commissaire; Harold W. Kenney, Dayton, grand correspondent; Holly H. Rickey, Portsmouth, grand conductor; Paul A. Puller, Xenia, grand garde de la porte; Wilbur L. DeWeese, Lima, cheminot national; and the following grand cheminots: Dean Patton, Lima; Lee E. Moore, Newark, and Tiffin R. Herzog, Portsmouth.

Wilbur DeWeese, Lima, is chairman in charge of Grand Vulture arrangements for the day.

Builds Tiniest Motor

A magnifying glass was required to assemble this tiny motor, said to be the smallest electrically driven "engine" in the world. It was made by John Lakota of Greensburg, Pa., a watchmaker, and required three years of his spare time to perfect. Note the motor as compared with a 10-cent piece. It is constructed entirely of brass and steel.

Flies, Mosquitoes Die At a Touch of This Perfumed Mist . . . Based on Flowers of Japan

There is a spray based on an extract of Japanese flowers. It was developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Ten years and over $100,000 spent to perfect it. This is the latest, most efficient, most economical way to free your home—and keep it free—from these germ-bearing insects.

FLY-TOX ONLY

Use Fly-Tox only, and always in a new-type Fly-Tox sprayer. Then every stroke releases some 150,000 particles into the air.

Fly-Tox is efficient beyond all compare. It is all-pervading, quick and economical. Every lot is tested. It is harmless to people. Stainless.

BROADER VISION IS NEED SAYS RECTOR

"What this country needs is a broader vision," asserted Rev. Phil Porter, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Dayton, who was guest speaker at the first dinner-meeting of the year given by the Greene County Masonic Club at the Masonic Temple Thursday night. About seventy-five Masons from all parts of the county attended. Speaking on "Our Common Interests," Rev. Porter spoke of the necessity for a far-sighted policy rather than selfish interests of individuals, in both business and politics, as an antidote for present economic distress. "We are too engrossed in petty interests and are placing them ahead of the common good," the speaker warned. The meeting was preceded by dinner served at 6:30 o'clock.

Did You Ever Regard It In This Light?

[And he was there in the wilderness forty days.]
—Mark 1:13

Come Ye Apart

THE measure of our power is our depth of spiritual concentration. Nothing takes root in soil constantly turned over. Nothing finds rest in a life with no quiet depths. Like the Master, we must find a "wilderness," where, for awhile, we can hush life's clamorous voices and quietly wait for God to speak. That is what prayer means; that is what public worship provides. The shallow Christian may make both the occasional substitute for steady and persistent spiritual effort. The serious Christian hears in both Christ's constant reminder: "Come ye yourselves apart and rest awhile."

Be At Church Sunday

Can Your Children Relax?

The noise and hurry of the present age impose a tremendous burden on the nerves of the growing child. Take time today for a few quiet moments with the youngsters—tell them the age-old truths, and tomorrow reinforce the telling by bringing them to Sunday School.

To Visitors in Our City

The constant rush—the "busy-ness" of our modern mode of living has a tendency to prevent silent, helpful meditation. Pause awhile—enjoy the quiet and peace of a reverent service—come to one of our Churches tomorrow.

Good Gardening

THE GRANDMOTHER OF GARDENS
By DEAN HALLIDAY
Garden Expert for Central Press and The Gazette

"I've always wanted to have a herb garden," said my neighbor, "What are some of the plants that should be grown in it?"
"Your wanting a herb garden is very natural," I replied, "for the herb garden is the grandmother of all gardens. And here are some of the things that should grow in it."
First of all, parsley. For cooking, the plain-leaved parsley is often used, but for garnishing the deep green moss-curl kinds are most popular. The plants are biennial, throwing up seed-heads the second year, so it is wise to have new plants coming along every year to replenish the old stock.
The next most popular herb is probably sage, whose strong flavored leaves go into dressing for duck or goose and other fowl. Chives are often used in place of onion, especially for salad. Then mint for mint sauce or mint jelly.
When making salads, try a dressing made with tarragon vinegar. Some of this herb should be in the garden for this purpose alone, although the tender leaves are also good in salads. The roots of tarragon should be planted, not the seeds, for the true tarragon does not seed.

The two savories, summer and winter, are both plants that improve the flavor of sauces, stews, dressing and other dishes. The summer savori, which is an annual, is of a more delicate flavor than the winter, which is a semi-hardy perennial.

Classified Advertising Brings Results

Let THE GAZETTE classified advertising section help you in your want problems.

Just telephone numbers 800 or 111 and ask for an ad taker. A trained ad writer will be glad to assist you in preparing your copy in order to obtain the best results.

All advertising copy, however, should be in the GAZETTE office not later than 9:30 a. m. of the day it is intended for publication. This guarantees publication on that day and insures proper set-up for your copy.

Errors, typographical or otherwise, will be corrected if notice is given immediately after the first insertion. The GAZETTE cannot be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion unless proper notice has been given before the next insertion.

The GAZETTE must reserve the right to restrict its advertisements to proper classification, style and type and to edit or reject any advertisement.

Servants Get Theirs In Talkie "Downstairs"

Servants have been furnishing comedy relief in pictures ever since the first nose-titled butler walked through a door to catch a custard pie in the schnozzle, but all this is over now.

Their affairs will be glorified in John Gilbert's new picture, "Downstairs", and never was such a household staff assembled before. Jack himself will be the chauffeur and his red-headed intended bride, Virginia Bruce, is a maid.

To this staff has been added the suave and dignified Paul Lukas, who will play the butler of the menage Mr. Lukas, who complained bitterly of playing counts, etc., at Paramount is quite recon-

She has high praise for the performance of Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Joan Crawford and Wallace Berry, but refers to Lionel as "the greatest actor on the screen today".

Eddie Cantor's new leading lady is Diane Sinclair, who was born in Paramibo, Dutch Guiana of Spanish parents and came to the United States at the age of 10. Her stage training was received with the Hedgerow Players in Philadelphia. The group that developed Ann Harding. She was discovered by Metro and is now playing in the Lionel Barrymore picture, "Washington Whirlpool".

cited to his lower estate in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture. He'll join the Gilbert troupe as soon as he completes a role opposite Elissa Landi at Fox.

Last Saturday saw the Marion Davies company go into rehearsals for what is expected to be the star's best picture in some time. It is an original story by Frances Marion, with a New York setting. Miss Davies will play a Broadway chorus girl. She'll have Edmund Goulding for director and a supporting cast of real distinction. Billie Dove, the girl with the "most perfect face in Hollywood" will be another chorus girl; Jimmie Gleason will be Marion's father; Robert Montgomery will be the hero and Zasu Pitts, Marion's elder sister, Sidney Toler, just added to the cast will be a comedy foil for Zasu.

More than fifty of Hollywood's most expensive dress-extras got the surprise of their life last week. Summoned to United Artists in evening clothes, they were taken to a theater set, which will be used as the tag scene of Douglas Fairbanks' South Sea satire.

Came the director's shout for "picture" and the cameras ground for three minutes. Then, "That's all for today," sang out the assistant. The extras received a full day's salary.

Vicki Baum, author of "Grand Hotel", selects Lionel Barrymore's work as the greatest single performance in the talkie version of her story, according to an article by her in the current Modern Screen Magazine.

CHEST CLINIC WORK RESUMED NEXT FALL

Mrs. Guy-Harold Smith, Columbus, will return here in the fall to conduct a diagnostic chest clinic similar to that held here several weeks ago under direction of the Greene County Health League. It was announced at a luncheon meeting of the league at the Iron Lantern Wednesday. Mrs. Smith left Thursday for Chillicothe to do special health work in Ross County.

Dr. Clyde Dawson, Yellow Springs, newly-elected president of the league, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Smith's report showed that of the forty-six patients examined at the clinic here fourteen were positive cases of tuberculosis. Three of these patients have been placed in hospitals, she revealed.

Loses 33 Pounds —Feels Better

Mrs. Lena Roberts, 558 Selma St., Springfield, O., used French Lick Salts in her reducing program. She writes: "I weighed 145 pounds and did not feel at all well. Now I weigh 112 pounds—look and feel very much better."

The French Lick way, including moderate exercise and diet, soon trims down bust, hips, ankles, double chin—makes you feel and look 100% better. French Lick Salts stops the accumulation of body wastes that impair proper functioning of other body processes. It is a blend of the same health-giving mineral salts found in the renowned spring waters at famous French Lick Springs.

Whether or not you wish to reduce, take French Lick Salts as a systemic regulator—a little once a week in cool water. As pleasant-tasting as a fountain beverage! Today, at your druggist's, buy a generous bottle, 50c.

Above, before treatment; below, after. Has nature been stingy to you in the matter of long, silky eyelashes and perfectly formed eyebrows? A new treatment by Paris beauticians transplants hair from the head to eyebrows and eyelashes to supplement the works of nature. Pictured left is a close-up of thin, scraggly eyelashes and thick, uneven brows. Right shows the same face after the beautician has plucked hairs from the patient's head and "planted" them, roots and all.

CAESARCREEK

In honor of the birthdays of both Mrs. J. B. Mason, and Vernon Shambaugh, the cast that presented "Mammy's Little Will" Rose" at Caesarcreek last March gave a party and picnic at Snider Park, Springfield, Sunday. At noon a bountiful table was spread. A beautiful birthday cake with candles formed the center piece for the delicious spread. The afternoon was enjoyed by boat riding building a pleasant affair. The morning session was given over to a business meeting with reports from different Granges. A basket dinner was served and after noon the memorial services were conducted by six girls, placing a wreath and candle on the altar then the open Bible, and the singing of a hymn by Caesarcreek Grange. The program was put on by M. Pleasant Grange and consisted of readings, piano solos, trombone solos, duets, violin solo, and a play entitled "Getting a Wife by Advertising" and was a splendid success. Caesarcreek Grange feels very grateful for the pleasure of having Clinton County Grange to visit it and put on such fine entertainment.

Miss Hartman, of Dayton, spent the week end at her home here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Conklin. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pidgeon and Miss Nellie Watkins, all of Xenia, enjoyed a wiener roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith Sunday evening. A perfect day and ideal weather made the coming together of the Clinton and Greene County Granges at Pomona Grange meeting on Thursday at Caesarcreek School building a pleasant affair.
